Who Are We?

The U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps is an elite team of more than 6,500 full-time, well-trained, highly qualified public health professionals dedicated to delivering the Nation's public health promotion and disease prevention programs and advancing public health science. Driven by a passion for public service, these men and women serve on the front lines in the Nation's fight against disease and poor health conditions. As one of America's seven uniformed services, the Commissioned Corps fills essential public health leadership and service roles within the Nation's Federal Government agencies and programs.

RADM Nick Makrides

“Are you ready to discover an opportunity for a professional and personal life changing experience; one that blends your desire to serve our country with your passion for oral and public health? If your answer is “Yes!” or “I’m not sure,” take a moment to learn about the career opportunities and experiences of the men and women serving within the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps...collectively working to

“Protect, Promote, and Advance the health and safety of our Nation.”

“Leadership, Service, Integrity and Excellence” are the Corp values by which the proud officers of the US Public Health Service (USPHS) Dental Category serve their country. The Dental Category of the USPHS has proudly provided oral health expertise to the Nation since 1919 – whether deploying domestically or abroad due to a natural or man-made disaster; providing clinical care; serving as an administrator; conducting research; or performing epidemiological surveillance. Let us help you discover a career that could very well be the dental profession’s best kept secret.

What Do We Do?

Dental Officers in Public Health:

- Perform clinical dentistry
- Prevent and control oral diseases
- Educate individuals and communities about oral health
- Improve oral, dental, and craniofacial health through treatment, research, surveillance, training, administration, and the dissemination of health information
- Respond to disasters, including using dental forensics to identify disaster victims

Dental officers join the Commissioned Corps at many different levels. Some join as beginning clinicians while others are experienced dentists who also may have had training in public health, policy and administration, or research methodology. The focus is on improving oral health for entire populations. While there is plenty of direct patient care, there are opportunities to become involved in organized community disease prevention and treatment programs that can make an impact on overall community health rates.

Quality of Practice

Being a dentist in the U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS) Commissioned Corps will allow you to focus on clinical practice without the demands of maintaining a business. Every day will offer new challenges as you bring oral health care and educational programs to underserved and disadvantaged patients who need it most. You can also participate in short emergency deployments, critical assistance in public health emergency response and disaster recovery efforts. What's more, any single, valid, unrestricted professional license opens the door to work in any one of our Federal facilities. As part of a national team of committed health care professionals, you'll be serving your country and making a difference while enjoying excellent benefits and work/life balance.

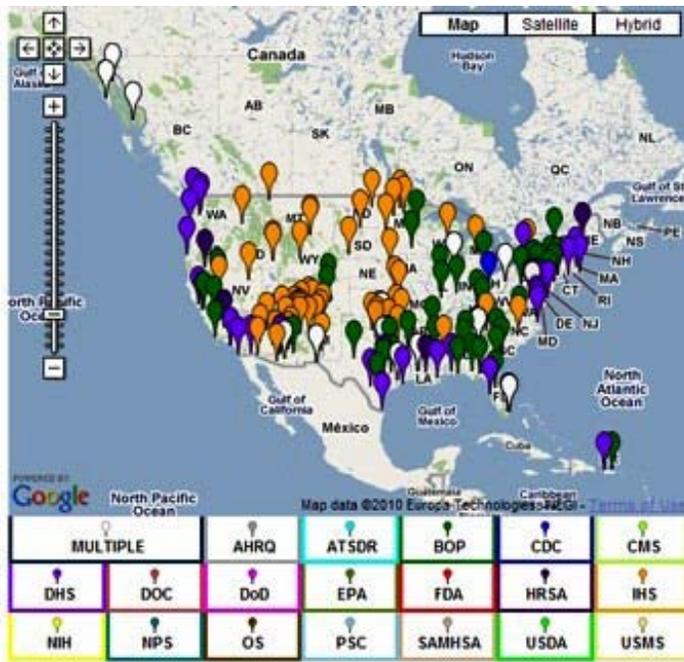

Why You Should be a Dental Officer in the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps

Where are we Located?

Almost anywhere and everywhere in the country. Whether you prefer rural or urban, east or west, north or south, we have a location for you. Dentists can be employed as Commissioned Officers across the country in any of the following agencies:

- Indian Health Service
- U.S. Coast Guard
- Federal Bureau of Prisons
- Health Resources and Services Administration
- Division of Immigration Health Services

Quality of Life

Is your quality of life all that it could be? Is it important to have time to spend with your family and friends, doing the things you enjoy? As a Commissioned Officer in the U.S. Public Health Service, you receive 30 days of annual leave plus 10 Federal holidays. Many duty stations operate Monday-Friday during normal business hours. This organization allows you to pursue life in literally hundreds of locations from the largest cities to the smallest communities near the oceans, the mountains, the Grand Canyon, the Gulf Coast or national parks. Be prepared to enjoy a camaraderie and sense of common purpose unlike anything you have yet experienced.

U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps Benefits

Commissioned Corps officers working for the U.S. Public Health Service enjoy the same benefits as their counterparts in the armed services. Here are a few of them:

- No cost, comprehensive medical and dental care for Corps officers; excellent health benefits for families
- Paid sick leave, maternity leave, and Federal holidays
- Clinical practice liability coverage
- Thirty days of paid vacation per year beginning the first year
- Tax-free housing and meal allowances
- Thrift Savings Plan (retirement savings and investment plan similar to a 401 (k) - contributory
- Retirement plan with benefits eligibility beginning after 20 years of service – noncontributory
- Loan repayment potential – USPHS understands the financial burden of medical education. Assignments with certain Federal agencies, such as the Indian Health Service, offer loan repayment and/or other educational and family support programs.
- Veterans Affairs benefits, such as the Post 9/11 GI Bill which allows active duty members or their dependents to receive an education benefit once they have completed a minimum service obligation.

Compensation Examples for USPHS Commissioned Corps Dentists

Compensation varies depending on factors such as grade/rank, years of training and experience (T&E) in your profession, base-pay entry date, specialty training received, geographic location of the duty station, and whether or not the employee has a spouse and/or children. Please use the pay tables at <http://militarypay.defense.gov/> along with the zip code of the duty station you are considering and the paycheck examples at the bottom of this web page to estimate pay.

Dentists

The minimum starting pay grade/rank for a dentist in the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps is O-3 or Lieutenant. Dental graduates receive eight years of T&E credit for education leading to the DDS or DMD degree regardless of how many years it actually took to obtain that degree.

Bonuses and Special Pays

All dentists are eligible for both contractual, special-pay bonuses and monthly, special-pay bonuses, which include:

- Accession Bonus (Signing Bonus) - Reporting dentists receive $37,500 to start and $37,500 at the 25th month for a total of $75,000 with a four-year agreement.
- Variable Special Pay (VSP) - Paid monthly, this special pay ranges from $3,000 to $12,000 annually based on years of creditable service.
- Additional Special Pay (ASP) - Based on a one year contract with annual pay ranging from $4,000 to $15,000 based on years of creditable service.
- Multi-year Retention Bonus (MRB) -- for board eligible specialists or 2 year advanced general practice residents (AGPR), depending on the dental officer's specialty training and length of new contracts, the MRB bonus ranges from $8,000 to $50,000.
- Board Certified Pay (BCP) - for Dental Specialists (also paid monthly) this pay ranges from $2,500 to $6,000 annually based on years of creditable service.

Additional Uniformed Service Benefits

The Commissioned Corps offers you and your family many other exceptional benefits including:

- Paid moving expenses when you join the Corps, relocate with the Corps, and retire from the Corps.
- Access to military base lodging, recreational facilities and space-available flights on military aircraft.
- Shopping privileges at military base grocery and department stores.
